INKPOTS HEROES

We have a special scheme called Inkpots Heroes which I would really like to tell you about. Inkpots Heroes are those authors and artists that we really like at Inkpots. All our heroes are still living – so we can't choose people like Roald Dahl, because we like to be able to write to them, and if we're lucky we get to meet them! We have a number of people who have already agreed to be our heroes and you can read all about them here: www.inkpots.org/inkpots-heroes
We have a brilliant logo that they are given too:

These heroes really inspire us. But the children of Inkpots really inspire them too. I know that Sophy Henn has used some of the Inkpots children to inspire her drawings in some of her books! Can you imagine being included in a book!

So, I would like your help!

I would love to know someone who you think would be a great Inkpots Hero. This can be an artist or an author. You don't have to know them or have met them, but it should be someone who you would like to have a conversation with.

Ruby from one of our after school clubs got the chance to ask her hero MG Leonard some questions. Ruby had loved reading 'Beetle Boy' which M G Leonard had written. She said:
"M G Leonard answered some of my questions about how she worked. And it really inspired me. I did lots of research for a story I am writing about bees because she said it's important to get facts right for your reader."

Because if we choose your person to be a hero, you will get the chance to ask them some questions!

I can't wait to hear your suggestions for our new heroes. Email me with your ideas at gill@inkpots.org

I would also love to read any questions you might already have for them.
I am really looking forward to welcoming some new Inkpots Heroes!
